Principal's Report

Dear Parents,

Well we are over half way through our first term for 2019. Students have set a classroom goal and method of tracking for the term in the classroom and in the hallway as well as their personal and academic goals that are displayed in the classroom and individual Leader in Me folders. Towards the end of this term, students will reflect on their individual goals as well as celebrate class goals if achieved.

The classroom learning environments have started to become a flexible learning spaces whereby students work in flexible groups according to their needs and not necessarily with their class teacher. Students have adapted well to the flexibility in their learning using the designated spaces to support the learning such as the swamp, campfire and plains.

Teachers spend the majority of their planning time discussing student achievement for the week and looking for patterns in the data. The teachers can then ask “why” these patterns might be evident, and keep asking “why” until they get to root causes they can target with instruction. These causes can be used to set learning goals for individuals and groups of students, and to identify professional learning opportunities for teachers. Teachers are compiling a data wall which is a tangible measure of teachers’ impact – and a powerful spur to search for the next classroom intervention to keep individual student’s data/achievement moving.

Last Thursday and Friday I was at the Inner South Principal Conference focussing on Empowering Students - Voice, Leadership and Agency with Amy Sharman and Anneliese Green joining me on the Friday. The key speaker was Lee Watanabe-Crockett, a Canadian educator who lives in Japan, who focused on educators embracing student-centered learning. She championed the notion that when classrooms transform, learning comes alive and outcomes improve. A culmination of Lee Watanabe-Crockett’s years of work with schools around the world, Future-Focused Learning: Ten Essential Shifts of Everyday Practice detailed ten core shifts of instructional practice teachers can use with students immediately, regardless of core curriculum or instructional pedagogy. These proven shifts offer a clear pathway for taking the great work teachers already do and making it exceptional.

Exciting learning awaits for our students at Parktone!

What else has been happening?

School Council Elections

On the 18th February, the closing and assessing of nominations for the 2019 School Council positions were conducted. The number of nominations were less than the number of vacancies in the parent category. Those nominated who were declared elected:

1. Kerryn Janson
2. Katherine Jorgensen
3. Wendy O'Mara

The elected staff representative for school council is Maddie Dosser.

A call was made for further nominations for the two unfilled vacancies. Such nominations were lodged within three school days from the date of the closing of the first call for nominations. We received nine nominations for the two unfilled vacancies. Counting the ballots occurred after closing on Wednesday 6th March 4:00pm. The successful candidates to fill the remaining 2 position were:-

1. Alana Firth
2. Sarah Blackmore

On Tuesday March 19th at 6:30pm the School Council will hold their AGM. This is where we thank the following current school council member for their time and efforts on School Council-;

1. Nadine Robinson (staff representative)- 11 years
2. Michelle Murphy- 1 term
3. Ilinka Lazic – 1 term
4. Tina Richardson – 1 term

Specialist Centre

Last week we held our very first Friday assembly in the stadium. The sound system was moved from its original position to the Specialist Center and the mini stage was used. Students maintained their usual seating arrangements but rather than a rough asphalt surface to sit on they had a smooth polished hard surface instead. The only drawback is the acoustics of the space is a challenge, as even the slightest conversation has an impact on the overall noise level which makes it a challenge for the students running the assembly.

Tomorrow we have the Secretary of Education Tim Richardson joining us for our assembly. Prior to this, a team will meet with Tim consisting of the School Council President, student leaders and leadership team to discuss stages of the building process at Parktone. We are hoping that we will be given an anticipated timeframe for when Stage Three of the building project can commence. Stage Three is the current level 3A & 3C and After School Care space which is a building that is beyond repair and not conducive to our learning pedagogy. Fingers crossed we get some great news.

The update on the outdoor seating is that we have not been given a final date for completion. Currently architects are working on barriers that will ensure the safety for our students. We have had a couple of prototypes that were not compliant to Australian safety standards requiring the architects to go back to the drawing board once again. As for the minor defects internally, George the foreman is working through the list. Students and staff are now able to use the toilet facilities and the canteen is fully operational. Please note the toilet facilities are not to be used before or after school and recess or lunch times due to supervision restraints.

Flexible Learning Spaces

The learning spaces are organised so that different areas of the classroom support the education that is required. In a typical classroom, we have collaboration areas, instruction spaces, independent areas and quiet learning spaces. Students move between different classrooms and teachers to assist in providing the best educational environment for each student.

Next term parents will have the opportunity to see the flexible learning spaces in action as we will be running parent tours. These tours will commence at 9:15am starting in the Prep area then proceeding to move through the grade levels. This gives you the opportunity to see how your child learns within the learning spaces as well as others. Following the tour, morning tea will be provided in the staffroom for a Q & A. So pencil one of the below dates into your diary.

- Prep Parents Flexible Spaces School Tour
8th May 9:15-10:15am
- Grade 1 & 2 Parents Flexible Spaces School Tour
13th May 9:15-10:15am
- Grade 3-6 Parents Flexible Spaces School Tour
13th June 9:15-10:15am

CASEA

We have been lucky to secure the CASEA team of mental health clinicians from Alfred CYMHS to work at Parktone. The clinicians will not only be working with students and parents but offering professional development for the staff so that they can support all students in the learning environment.

Hi!
My name is Charlie. I am from the CASEA program and am looking forward to coming to your school! Yay!

CASEA will be in our school in Term 2 & 3 2019

As part of our Wellbeing Program at Parktone Primary School, CASEA will be joining us at school on Tuesdays.

CASEA is a joint program run by Alfred Child and Youth Mental Health Service (CYMHS) and the Department of Education and Early Childhood Development.

The program helps children enhance their self esteem and develop better skills in

- Understanding and expressing feelings
- Building self-esteem and resilience
- Getting on with others

We will be running the program with some Prep to Grade 3 children and their families for the next two terms. In this way we hope to help children who have problems in these areas to improve their skills and prevent their problems from getting bigger.

The program involves working with the classroom teachers, parents and running small groups for children and their parents.

Attendance in the small groups is free of charge but places are limited. Parents will receive a letter soon explaining the program in more detail. There will also be a questionnaire for parents and teachers to complete.

If you have any queries please contact Genevieve Casonato on 9580 1207

Parent Volunteer/Helpers Training

We value the support we receive from parents in the classroom. To support parents in this work we are offering another opportunity for parents to undertake a training session. The training will be on Friday 15th March 2:30pm in the newly located Library that was the 2019 6A and 5A classrooms, who are now located in the Grade 5/6 space in the main building. We understand that due to work commitments some parents will be unable to make the above time so the training presentation is on Compass as a self-tutorial. All volunteers/helpers are required to sign an agreement form prior to commencing their support in the classroom. These agreements are to be given to your child's class teacher. I encourage parents to volunteer in the upper grades of Parktone PS as well.

❖ Please look at your Compass newsfeed titled 'Parent Volunteers/Helpers Training

Media Release Reminder

On Monday we uploaded a media permission form on Compass that needs to be completed for all students by Monday 11th March 2019. To ensure child safety procedures are maintained at Parktone PS, images of your child can not be used in anyway in school internal or external communication unless authorised by a parent.

❖ Please click on the 'Course Confirmation' on the top right hand side of your Compass homepage

Curriculum Day Tuesday 12th March

We are excited about Adam Voigts and Real Schools commencing his three year partnership with the Parktone Primary School community next Tuesday. Staff will be working with Adam all day on Tuesday giving students an extra LONG weekend.

Adam will be focusing on Restorative Practices and Class Circle Time which when done right, has proven to be the key to improving Student-Teacher relationships, driving engagement, building a respectful culture and enhancing teacher effectiveness. As he states, "here's the kicker - it's fantastic for reducing teacher stress too".

The curriculum day is designed to provide Teachers and School Leaders with a powerful understanding of Restorative Practices in order to:

- Generate long-term improvements in student behaviour ... beyond the quick fix.
- Learn how to construct truly Restorative conversations and circles.
- Use the Restorative Questions with skill, confidence and poise.
- Dispel the myths of Restorative Practices being too soft and too time intensive.
- Connect practice inextricably to School and Personal Values.
- Achieve a critical understanding of human emotion including the influence of Shame on student behaviour.
- Confidently use Restorative Practices across the continuum from informal applications.
- Reflect on personal Teaching Practice using the Operation Domains (Social Discipline Window).
- Embed Restorative Practices as the fundamental platform for effective Teaching.

Adam will also be working with staff in the classroom setting during Term 2 and will offer a parent information night. A date has yet to be confirmed however the date will be published on Compass so you can add this to the must attend section of your diary.

Grade 6 Camp Woorabinda

Last week our Grade 6 students and staff enjoyed their five day camp at Woorabinda which is situated just outside of Yallourn in Gippsland.

We spent the week working in groups and were given coloured bucket hats on arrival and began the action-packed week immediately with a walk into the bush as soon as we stepped off the bus. On our walk we collected sticks which we then used to build our own fires to cook our lunch on - delicious sausages and veggies.

Each day at Woorabinda was filled with fun outdoor activities including canoeing, raft making, zip lining, high ropes, bushwalking and working at the farm. It was fantastic to see all of the students synergising and encouraging each other to face their fears and move out of their comfort zone.

The camp kitchen staff really looked after us all week. We had a delicious range of meals including yummy salad and meat sandwiches and wraps, lasagne and salad, fish and salad, chicken and veggies and tasty homemade burgers.

Every night we enjoyed a different activity such as competitive tabloid sports, a hilarious Talent Show, spectacular night hike and an evening of skits and s'mores by the camp fire.

The Woorabinda week culminated in 'The Quest' where each colour team worked together through a series of challenges to collect puzzle pieces and clues to ultimately... I won't give that away as it is a Woorabinda secret! The teams were judged on their ability to use the camps three c's – courtesy, consideration and cooperation and this year's winners were the Blue Team!

It was a pleasure to attend and thank you to all of the students who made the most of the range of experiences camp provided. Thank you also to the dedicated Parktone staff who gave their time to make the camp possible.

Cyber Safety -The Momo Challenge

In the news and social media you may have seen a number of stories about the dangers of a phenomenon called 'The Momo Challenge'. I have had some students mention to me that there are students who are discussing this at school.

'The Momo Challenge' depicts a disfigured face on a bird's body. This can be seen as a disturbing image that could easily upset or worry a younger child. The Momo challenge has allegedly been seen in 'pop-ups' on sites such as Minecraft, YouTube and Fortnite. It can be played via WhatsApp and it asks participants to do a series of challenges, one of which ends in a suicide. It then threatens the participants and their families if they do not participate. Therefore it is important that parents talk to their children about this in relation to cyber safety and the reality of it. It is just as important when having this discussion with your child that you don't sensational or increase fear with your child.

The below article from parent zone may be helpful to support you with this discussion:-

Three-Minute Briefing: The Momo Challenge

Even though it turned out to be a hoax, the so-called 'Momo challenge' understandably caused many parents concern. Thankfully there is no verified evidence that this 'challenge' was real or that it caused harm to children. Despite this, it is clear that the concept of this hoax challenge has been causing distress among parents and children.

What is the so-called Momo Challenge?

The Momo character — the disfigured face attached to a bird's body — was, in fact, a prop named 'Mother Bird' made in Japan three years ago for an art exhibition. Its sinister stretched features make for a disturbing image that could easily upset or worry a younger child. It was claimed that the Momo challenge was 'played' over WhatsApp. The Momo character allegedly asked would-be participants to contact 'her' and do a series of challenges — the final challenge being suicide. Of course, there isn't much evidence of a child actually being harmed but what seems to be happening is that the disturbing image is spreading because people are using the image in their profiles.

How do children get to know about it?

Children are hearing about the challenge through numerous sources online — the coverage that is happening in the news and on social media is also leading to old fashioned playground curiosity. It's important to remember that the hype around these crazes, true or not, often leads children to investigate for themselves even if they haven't had direct contact.

Why would children be drawn to it?

There are lots of reasons for children to be drawn towards these challenges even ones that subsequently turn out to be nothing more than urban myth. The drama can be enticing especially when a popular Influencer or gamer is talking about it online.

What should parents do?

Although the Momo challenge is now being reported as a hoax, the reports, warnings and disturbing images could still cause distress to children. It's important that parents talk to their children about it. The best way to start is to ask a general question about whether they have seen anything online that upset or worried them. Explain that there are often things that happen online that can be misleading or frightening and that some things are designed to get a lot of attention.

Parents need to follow their child's lead — introducing a worrying subject to a child who isn't familiar with it might lead them to investigate. On the other hand, avoiding mentioning it won't provide a chance for a good discussion. Take your child's lead and whatever you decide about overtly talking about these kinds of topics, make sure that they know that contacting strangers and doing anything at all that they are asked to do online or off that makes them feel scared, worried or uncomfortable is not OK.

Remember that curiosity is a natural part of growing up so don't blame them for being drawn to this sort of digital drama. Try to listen, keep calm and help them to recognise that however tempting these things may be to explore, it's never sensible to be drawn in.

Parents of younger children may also want to install YouTube Kids, a more controlled version of YouTube intended for families, for better control of what young children may come across online.

Thanks everyone for contributing to marking Parktone Primary School a GREAT place.

Cheers

Genevieve Casonato
